Berne (via Paris). July 1.—For the physical nature.

The principal change is in the contract entered into between the railroad and the coal company whereby the former agreed to sell its coal to the latter at 65 per cent of tidewater prices. This clause, it is understood, will be substituted by one naming a fixed price on a sliding scale on the various sizes of coal for domestic consumption.

Berne (via Paris), July 1.—For the first time since the opening of the war the Swiss embroidery exports to the United States have exceeded those for a given month in 1914. In June the exportations totalled 3.781,425 was francs, which exceeded the value of the exports of June, 1914, by 107,176 with the exports of June, 1914, by 107,176 francs (approximately $20,263).
